

CALENDAR WENT TO PIECES.

Action Against L. I. R. R. Co. to Recover $119,000 and Montauk Indian Suit Off Calendar at Riverhead.

(Special to the Eagle.)

Riverhead, L. I., October 6—At the call of the big Supreme Court calendar here yesterday afternoon by Justice Jaycox a very large number of the cases went off for the term, and another large number were announced as settled—in fact, the calendar went to pieces to such an extent that it could hardly be recognized.

The big suit against the Long Island Railroad Company in which the people of the State of New York are endeavoring to collect $119,300 because of penalties in failing to cut inflammable material by the railroad tracks in the town of Smithtown, was one of those that fell by the wayside.

The Montauk Indian suit also went off for the term. It will be tried before Justice Jaycox in Patchogue on the last Saturday in October.
